BIOGRAPHY

Serbia, Belgrade, Vračar

I'm an Informatics graduate with a deep passion for web development and modern technologies. During my third year of university, I joined FactoryWW as a Software Developer 1, where I spent 11 months sharpening my skills in a professional development environment. Since then, I've continued growing through hands-on projects and coursework in frameworks like Angular, Flask, and React. I have experience across a variety of programming languages and tools and take a particular interest in the intersection of web engineering, Data Science, and AI. I'm hardworking, positive, and purpose-driven — always focused on delivering high-quality results on time.
